Narrative:

Mars: The Phoenix project, colorful and full of future spectrometers reminds me of a Phoenix Arizona Artist who passed away around five years ago, but not before leaving the world beautiful, mysterious paintings. Her name Ruby, reflected the color of Mars, she lived in the Phoenix zoo. Because, she spoke a different language, being an elephant we are still learning from the evidence of her place in the universe. I propose that a copy of one of Ruby's paintings is placed on the sundial,
